Quizzes & Homework: Homework will not be collected but it is an essential part of the course. Quizzes will be given on Friday at the end of class. Quizzes will be based on the homework assignments.

Equipment: Any use of texts, notes, “crib sheets”, lists of information concealed in cell phones, etc. as an aid in writing exams is specifically prohibited in this course.

Courtesy: Please place all cell phones in silent mode and put them away.

Attendance: Students are expected to attend all lectures. You are responsible for all the material covered. Any changes in this syllabus or in the scheduling of tests will be announced during class meetings. Students who miss a class meeting should copy a classmate's notes for that meeting. This class begins at 9:10 AM...please be prompt. There will be no "make-up" quizzes or exams. Unless a valid excuse is presented in advance, a missed quiz or exam will receive the score 0. Students must look at this syllabus carefully and plan well ahead: Commercial/personal travel schedules are NOT valid excuses.

Misc.: Office hours are not intended to go over material covered while you were absent. Students are expected to do all of the homework. Students are also responsible for all textbook and in-class examples. This class is homework intensive. If you don't have time to do the homework, you don't have time to take the course. If you feel that I have mis-graded your paper, please bring it to my attention immediately...no adjustments will be made once the the paper leaves the room.

Integrity of Scholarship and Grades

All students are expected to adhere to the University's policy concerning academic integrity. This is covered in the Spartan Life booklet under General Student Regulations. According to the handbook,

"...no student shall claim or submit the work of another as one's own."

For more information about this and other scholarship issues, please consult the handbook or visit the Spartan Life web site at www.vps.msu.edu/Splife/rule32.htm
